

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

The Lasso

The Lasso student newspaper informs students, faculty, staff, and others of University issues and events, and off-campus topics of importance to the community. Student publications are recognized student activities that provide both a forum for communication and training for future writers, editors, reporters, photographers, and other publication professionals. Students interested in writing, advertising, and graphic design are encouraged to join the Lasso.