

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

The Lasso

The Lasso, the student newspaper, informs students, faculty, staff, and others of University issues and events as well as off-campus topics of importance to the community. Student publications are recognized student activities that provide both a forum for communication and training for future writers, editors, reporters, photographers, and other publication professionals. We encourage you to apply to work with us!