

MASTER OF ARTS IN COUNSELING PSYCHOLOGY

Web Site: <https://twu.edu/psychology-philosophy/graduate-programs/counseling-psychology/masters-program/>

Our master's program in counseling psychology provides a uniquely feminist perspective while preparing students for careers primarily in psychological counseling. Students learn to work with individuals, couples, families, and groups to promote optimal mental, emotional, and relational health and well-being.

Understanding oneself and others as existing and participating in multiple multicultural and social contexts is a critical part of our program. We are committed to our students' development as ethical and self-reflective professionals and providing training based in the science of psychology.

Our MA degree prepares students to obtain licensure as a Professional Counselor (LPC) and provides excellent preparation for those students seeking to pursue doctoral training in counseling psychology.
