

MASTER OF ARTS IN READING EDUCATION

This program will no longer admit new students beginning August 25, 2025, pending SACSCOC approval.

Marketable Skills

Marketable skills prepare students for success in a variety of professional settings. Developed through academic coursework, co-curricular engagement, and extracurricular involvement, these skills include communication, critical thinking, teamwork, ethical reasoning, adaptability, and digital literacy. Whether directly related to a student's major or serving as complementary strengths, marketable skills enhance career readiness and reflect TWU's commitment to producing graduates who are prepared to thrive in today's dynamic workforce.

1. Evaluate theories and research about the processes and practices of literacy instruction.
2. Apply knowledge of a variety of instructional approaches, including technology, to create an environment that supports literacy learning.
3. Apply understandings of how diversity affects and enriches the literacy development of students.
4. Apply leadership skills that support communication and collaboration around issues related to literacy learning with the school, parents, and community.