The Department of Social Sciences and Historical Studies offers programs leading to the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and Master of Arts degrees with majors in History. Special emphasis in public history is available at the graduate level. Also on the graduate level, the department offers a post-baccalaureate certificate in History. The department also offers an undergraduate minor in History as well as programs leading to teacher certification.

For information concerning the Master of Arts degree, and the Master of Arts in Teaching (M.A.T.), see the Graduate Catalog (<http://catalog.twu.edu/graduate/>).

No grade lower than C can be counted toward completion of any major or minor in this department.

Internship Experience

All majors and minors in the Program are encouraged to add a history internship to their classroom curricula. Internships allow students to expand and apply traditional learning through real-life experiences in the local, national, and global workplace. They also provide an opportunity for students to network with professionals in the field and clarify choices when making career decisions.

Teacher Certification

The History Program offers a variety of undergraduate and graduate programs resulting in state teacher certification at the middle school level. Each of the options listed for certification must be completed in compliance with requirements set by the Texas Education Agency and the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

All students desiring teacher certification must comply with all certification requirements as outlined by the College of Professional Education (<http://catalog.twu.edu/undergraduate/professional-education/>). Contact the Department of Social Sciences and Historical
