BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN SOCIOLOGY

Web Site: https://twu.edu/sociology/undergraduate-programs/bs-in-sociology/

The sociology curriculum is designed to give students a broad education while preparing them for work and practice in a variety of fields. A wide array of courses provides training in research methods and techniques; insight into social class, racial-ethnic and gender inequality; group differences; understanding of social organizations, social forces, and group processes; and skills to be used in working with individuals or groups. The curriculum builds a background for any occupation that involves working with people and/or social organizations. The sociology program can prepare students to teach sociology in public schools and to do research, practice, or other work with private or governmental agencies. Sociology provides an invaluable background for graduate study and for careers in business, public service, law, medicine, and other helping professions. Opportunities for practical work experience are provided through the University's Internship Program.

Marketable Skills

Marketable skills prepare students for success in a variety of professional settings. Developed through academic coursework, co-curricular engagement, and extracurricular involvement, these skills include communication, critical thinking, teamwork, ethical reasoning, adaptability, and digital literacy. Whether directly related to a student's major or serving as complementary strengths, marketable skills enhance career readiness and reflect TWU's commitment to producing graduates who are prepared to thrive in today's dynamic workforce.

- Apply critical thinking, analytical reasoning skills, and sociological knowledge and skills to real-world settings.
- 2. Work with numbers and demonstrate quantitative skills.
- 3. Make a presentation on and write a non-technical report that is understood by non-sociologists.
- Work with people in different groups characterized by race, ethnicity, gender, socioeconomic class, religion, or immigration status to achieve a goal.
- 5. Make an evidence-based argument.
- 6. Use computers to locate and analyze data.
- 7. Gather information and analyze social problems.
