

PROFESSIONAL TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES

At Texas Woman's University, we recognize that careers—and lives—are constantly evolving. Whether you're launching your first job, growing into a leadership role, or exploring a new industry, learning should meet you where you are. That's why TWU created TWU Ventures—a hub for flexible, short-term professional training programs designed for today's dynamic workforce.

These non-credit programs are developed and delivered in collaboration with leading training partners, including employers, workforce organizations, and industry experts. You can earn and learn at the same time, gaining the skills and credentials needed to stay competitive, grow professionally, or make your next big move.

What You'll Find

- In-demand training aligned with career fields like healthcare, sales, business, and technology
- Options for all stages of your career, whether you're starting out, pivoting, or stepping into leadership
- Flexible formats, including online, hybrid, and in-person programs, built around your schedule
- Non-credit learning that does not apply toward a TWU degree—unless otherwise noted for programs with formal credit articulation, recognition for prior learning, or university agreements
